The Administration's Policy Regarding the Senate.

TAXATION OF RAILROAD LANDS

Another Resolution in Relation to the Telephone Scandal. Morrison's Tariff Bill Introduced in the House

SENATE

WASHINGTON, Feb 15.—The following letter was to day sent to the president pro tem of the senate.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, Feb

To the President pro tempore of the Senate
Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of the senate's letter of the ... in words as follows:

Resolved, That the secretary of the interior be directed to communicate to the senate copies of all papers which have been filed in the interior department and of all papers which have been presented to any officer of that department touching the official and personal conduct of Henry Ward, Indian inspector, during his incumbency in said office.

I transmit all official papers on file in the department which I understand to be embraced in the resolution. The official report made to this department by Henry Ward, United States Indian inspector ... and as the clerical force of this department is limited and otherwise fully employed, I have deemed it best to transmit the original reports. As they are frequently consulted in the transaction of the business of the department, I have the honor to request that they be returned to the files as soon as they are no longer required by the senate. I am directed by the president to say that ... the object of the resolution is to inquire into the reasons of the suspension of Ward, these papers are not to be considered as constituting the evidence submitted to him in relation thereto. I am also directed by the president to say that he does not consider it consistent with the public interest to transmit copies of unofficial papers from private citizens held in my custody for him, which relate exclusively to the suspension of incumbents.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,
L. Q. C. LAMAR, Secretary.

The enclosures, the letter and accompanying papers were referred to the committee on Indian affairs.

TAXATION OF RAILROAD LANDS

Hawley presented a bill which was referred to the committee on public lands. Relating to taxation of railroad lands and for other purposes. Hawley said the bill related to a very sore subject. An exceedingly large quantity of land, perhaps 60,000 square miles, had been granted to the Northern Pacific railroad company, but it was provided by an amendatory act of congress that no patents should issue for land until after payment by the company of all fees relating to surveys, etc. The fee was only three cents an acre. The railroad had paid fees upon only about 80,000 acres of its immense grant. It had nevertheless proceeded to give to settlers warranty deeds for many millions upon millions of acres of lands. The company had ... located villages and cities on its own selected sections. Those ... the company conveyed by warranty deed had been settled and improved, and in many cases thriving villages had grown up on them. It turned out now that by a recent decision of the supreme court of the United States none of these ... [illegible]

MORRISON'S TARIFF BILL

It is Introduced in the House—Summary of its Provisions

WASHINGTON, Feb 15.—Morrison's tariff bill was introduced in the house to day. Mr. Morrison says the bill effects an estimated reduction of $20,000,000 in revenues from customs based on the revenue of last year. The greatest reduction on any one article is in the case of sugar, where the new duty will result in a decrease of $10 000 000 in receipts. Additions to the free list will involve a loss of $5,500,000 and reductions made by the bill on other articles about $4,000,000.

Added to the free list are lumber, timber, wool unmanufactured, laths, shingles, salt, hemp, ... sulphur, lead and copper ores and coal. Besides these there are many articles of less consequence to the revenue, such as potatoes, hay, corn, bristles, beeswax, dyewoods, unmanufactured earths, undressed stone for building, ... [illegible]

The bill provides that from and after July 1, 1886, the following rates of duty shall take effect:

Wood manufactured for each side planed or finished 20 cents per thousand feet board measure.

Cotton thread, yarn, warps, or warp yarn valued at from 25 cents ... per pound 8 cents to ... cents per pound, according to quality; when valued at over $1 per pound 40 per cent ad valorem. The principal reductions on cotton cloths are in coarse materials.

Iron railway bars weighing more than twenty five pounds to the yard $11 ... per ton; steel railway bars and railway bars made in part of steel weighing more than twenty five pounds to the yard $13 50 per ton. Iron or steel ... rail weighing not over twenty five pounds to the yard, or iron or steel flat rails, ... There is a slight reduction ... bar and rolled iron, iron beams, girders, etc. There is also some reduction in lead and copper.

Sugar—On all sugar 80 per cent of the several duties and rates of duty now imposed on said sugar ... operative on sugars from countries having export duties.

WOOLS AND WOOLENS

Wools of the third class such as South American, Cordova, Valparaiso, native Smyrna and including all such wools of like character as have been heretofore usually imported into the United States from Turkey, Greece, Egypt, Smyrna and elsewhere ... cents per pound. Woolen cloths, woolen shawls and all manufactures of wool of every description, made wholly or in part of wool, not specially enumerated or provided for in this act, valued at not exceeding 80 cents per pound ... [illegible]

[illegible]

Slight, but general reductions run through the wool schedule and have also been made in cases of flax, jute and hemp; window glass, plate glass of high quality, earthenware, glassware and china ware where the duty is believed to be excessive. The duty on rice, ... castor beans and ... which ... is also slightly reduced.

Political and General Notes from Great Britain—The Money Question—Bismarck Yielding to the Pope.

BOSTON, Feb 15.—At 10 o'clock this morning a tour of the flooded district at Highland showed that the water had receded twelve inches since ... M. yesterday. The damage to property here is roughly estimated at $150,000.

At Newton and Upper Falls $35,000 worth of machinery and finished work was flooded with great loss. At Malden the flood has abated eight inches, and further damage is not feared. Water is flowing over Spot pond at the rate of 500,000 gallons a minute. The total loss here approaches $50,000. At Rockton the floods are subsiding.

There are five more washouts on the Old Colony railroad within the city limits. Temporary bridges are going up, and gullies are being filled. No further damage is feared and families have returned to their homes. At Mansfield the railroad is reported washed away, and several other bridges are down. Mattock dam broke yesterday, letting the contents of the millpond down upon the Warren mill bridge and sweeping it away.

The condition of affairs at Squannacook, six miles from North Middleboro, is the worst in that part of the state. The Nemasket and Bridgewater rivers unite forming the Taunton river, which drains twenty square miles. This is a roaring torrent, and its overflow in some places is a mile wide. The ... works ... is submerged and the ... buildings are floating.

At Taunton the total damage to bridges, factories and residences approximates $170,000. It is reported that the loss to the mills at ... is ... at Belle Point $50,000, and at Atlantic mills $10,000.

At noon to day the level of the flood was twenty two inches below the highest point reached. It is now thought that the regular outlet, Honeybrook, will carry off the water in forty-eight hours.

At East Dedham the dam connected with the Merchants' woolen mill is in great danger. Should it fall an immense volume of water will be precipitated upon the bridge below it and upon the dam at the Norfolk mill, which is in a valley at a much lower level. The fall of the latter would involve the destruction of the Norfolk mill and great havoc in Hyde Park.

A DAM GIVES WAY

FRANKLIN, Mass, Feb 15.—This morning the dam at the factory yielded to the enormous pressure of accumulated floods and fell with a crash. The country below is flooded, but full particulars of the extent of the damage are not yet received. The road between Wenham and Franklin is impassable. Fears are entertained that dams will give way.

THE FLOOD IN NEW YORK.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Feb 15.—Miles inland in Orange county and extending into Sussex county are inundated by the overflow of the Wallkill. The roads are impassable. Thousands of ties to be used in reconstruction of the old South Mountain road have been washed away, and several mill dams have been destroyed by floods.

GOVERNMENT FLEET ADRIFT

ST. LOUIS, Feb 15.—In addition to the damage inflicted yesterday morning and evening by the ... interests at that point from the break up of the ice gorge it has just been learned that the government fleet anchored behind Cairo island, consisting of three steamers, forty barges and about twenty pile drivers, valued at about $200,000 broke from their moorings and floated down the river. Mayor Linus stated that he has received dispatches from Chester, Illinois, to the effect that seven of the barges had been recovered at that point. Two of the steamers were under full press of steam when the ... broke away, and it is likely they will sustain no damage. ... [illegible] ... No estimate of the total damage can be yet made.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

THE CHINESE MINISTER ASKS ACTION

WASHINGTON, Feb 15.—The Chinese minister called at the state department to day and laid before Secretary Bayard sundry long telegrams received by him from California to the effect that there is a concerted movement in progress to drive out Chinese from all towns and cities of California except San Francisco and that the governor of the state and the sheriffs of the various counties ... no disposition to protect Chinese in their rights. The telegrams also assert that the threatened action would not only be disastrous to the Chinese labor class but ultimately to Chinese merchants of San Francisco. It is understood that the representations made by the Chinese minister have a double purpose in view. First to invoke the protection of the federal government, second to lay the foundation for a claim of money indemnity, similar to claims that have been advanced by the United States in a large number of cases and paid by China as indemnity for injuries sustained by American citizens in that empire.

RIOT AT BIRMINGHAM

BIRMINGHAM, 15.—A meeting of unemployed workingmen was held here to-day and attended by 8000 persons. The addresses delivered were of the most inflammatory nature and the assemblage degenerated into a mob, which attempted to run riot in the streets and pillage the shops. The police were prepared and succeeded in suppressing the rioting and preventing any acts of pillage.

A dispatch from Yarmouth says the unemployed workingmen of that city are making riotous demonstrations.

A WORD FROM ONE OF MANY

PORTLAND, Feb ...

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Will you please publish, say once a week, the names of those individuals and firms who have stopped their paper or withdrawn their advertisements at the instance of the congress (Holy Moses!) or through fear of boycott. I want to know so that I can boycott them in the interest of law, order and true manhood.

Politically I always, and otherwise I frequently differ with you, but on this Chinese question with respect to the methods of lawless men I heartily agree with you. I couldn't except from base and selfish motives do otherwise. Despite all the talk about no danger here we have abundant evidence that there would have been had not your watchfulness, courage and fearless performance of duty averted it. Continue the watch.

Two Men Murdered by Indians near Victoria.

THE SITUATION AT SEATTLE.

The Powers Murder Trial at Hollister Cal.—Trial and Sentence of Polygamists at Salt Lake—Etc.

VICTORIA, Feb 15.—News reached town to-day that William Dring and James Miller, farmers of the Cowichan district, thirty miles from Victoria, were shot dead Saturday night while at supper at Miller's cabin. It is supposed that Indians did the deed, but some reports state that it had its origin in an agrarian dispute. The bodies were found Sunday morning by a neighbor who called at the cabin.

A Colonist special from Chemainus says: The murder committed was a most diabolical one. Miller and Dring were eating supper Saturday night, when some Indians made their way from the beach opposite Miller's house and shot Dring through the skull. They then shot Miller in the belly with a charge of swan shot and then through the chest with an ordinary round bullet. Dring not being dead they cut his throat back to the spine, after which they served Miller the same way. They then secured articles of furniture and food and made their escape. There is no clue as yet to the murderers, but the tracks of the Indians to the beach. Dring was found seated in a chair with his head resting on his breast. Miller was lying on his back beside the fireplace.

In the supreme court to-day the action of the editor of the Colonist, in printing affidavits tending to exculpate Sproule, the American convicted of the murder of Hammill in the Kootenay district and under sentence of death, was severely commented on by the chief justice as tending to prejudice the case. A writ of error has been applied for in the case as alleged important evidence has been discovered since the first trial.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THE SITUATION AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Feb 15.—Everything remains quiet here. The military authorities are still in charge of the city and precautions taken are not in the least relaxed.

The court martial to day tried private Carney, Co. C, Fourteenth infantry, who broke into a Chinese house and attacked Chinamen on Friday evening. He was found guilty, but his sentence is not yet made public.

The military commission for trial of persons arrested on general charges met this morning and adjourned until to morrow without transacting any business.

Numerous rumors of all kinds are afloat, but few have any foundation in fact. Numbers of suspicious persons are being compelled to leave the city daily.

A case of rifles found in a private house was seized by the authorities yesterday.

MEETING OF TRUSTEES

VANCOUVER, Feb 15.—At the meeting of the trustees of the school for deaf mutes, blind and youth of feeble intellect of Washington territory to day the following were elected: President, J. R. Thompson, Vancouver; vice president, F. J. Parker, Walla Walla; treasurer, J. W. Sprague, Tacoma; director of the school, W. D. McFarland, Tacoma; auditor, J. I. Geoghegan, Vancouver; executive committee, for one, two and three years, W. A. Reynolds of Chehalis, J. J. Parker of Walla Walla and F. R. Smith of Vancouver.

CALIFORNIA.

THE POWERS MURDER TRIAL

HOLLISTER, Feb 15.—The courtroom this morning was densely packed at the opening of the trial of John T. Prewitt, charged with the murder of Dr. Powers. Many were unable to gain entrance. The town is crowded with witnesses, interested persons and spectators. Fourteen dilatory jurymen were fined $50 each for not answering. Philip Backus and Wm. Dampman were accepted as jurors from the first twelve called. It will probably take all week to secure a jury. On motion of the prosecution the court ordered that the jurors accepted be placed in the custody of the sheriff until the close of the trial.

LAST YEAR'S SALMON PACK

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 15.—Carefully compiled statistics by Field & Stone show the pack of salmon of 1885 to have been as follows: California, cases, 48,500; Oregon, 408,400; Washington territory, 14,... Alaska, 4,850; British Columbia, 108,... Total pack of 1885, ... total pack of 1884, ... Shortage for 1885, ... The decreased pack last year and losses by ... amounting to ... cases have put the market on a better basis than it has been for three years.

IN NEW HANDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 15.—Two prominent federal officials assumed the duties connected with their respective offices in this city to-day. Wiley J. Tinnin took the office of surveyor of the port, which was vacated by John M. Morton Saturday last. Theodore M. West assumed the duties of special agent of the treasury department, vice Evans.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

An inquest was held this morning in the case of John Peterson, night clerk of the Richmond house, who was shot and killed by Ignatius Pierce last Friday. The jury returned a verdict charging Pierce with murder.

NOT THE MAN

FRESNO, Feb 15.—S. P. Weston of Petaluma arrived this evening to identify the supposed Chinese murderer of Joseph C. Wickersham and wife. It is stated that the prisoner, though very much resembling the murderer, is not Tai Duck.

... Snell ... pleaded not guilty. Various members of ... [illegible] ... Eliza Shafer ... for ... months for ... refusing to answer questions before the grand jury as to their marital relations, swore that she was not married to Snell, and did not remember of his ever having slept with her overnight, but her sister, Mrs. Mabel Smith, remembered it and swore that Snell slept with Eliza a number of nights. Eliza was put on the stand again and refused to answer whether she went through the endowment house in the ceremony with Snell. She said she had been punished for contempt once and could stand it again. She was given until ... o'clock to reconsider her determination, at which time she reluctantly admitted marriage and cohabitation and Snell was promptly found guilty.

The wife of George Q. Cannon, Martha Hills, before the grand jury this afternoon refused to answer ... whether she was a pregnant woman ... by George Q. Cannon. PORTLAND, TUESDAY, FEB. 16, 1886.

THE ROOT OF IT

Now that Portland has saved itself for the present, from danger of riot, it is time to talk in a plain and candid way about the [illegible] which have produced this remarkable commotion.

The Chinese question, so-called, is but an inconsiderable part of them. It is merely a pretext or excuse. Were the Chinese gone, or had they never been here the condition of the great majority of the men who are making this disturbance would be practically just what it is now.

During several years past a great many men, mostly without families or other ties which make good citizens, have been dropping into the Northwest, by sea and land. [illegible] construction brought in [illegible]. The greater number who had employment along the lines of the transcontinental roads were discharged where work was discontinued. They have been making their way hither ever since. They are a class of men who expect to work for hire, when they work at all; are not provident; do not save money; take no thought of the morrow; work a few days or weeks when work offers, then quit, take their little money and go to some town to have a "good time," spend their money about the beer shops, or in idle amusements, and when it is gone look out for another place to work, earn a few dollars again, and again spend it. But a time comes when industry is depressed and work cannot be had and then as a consequence of their improvident habits they are in distress, and become the ready material of a riotous mob.

Unscrupulous scoundrels who set themselves up as champions of labor find this mass of discontent and use it as their capital to bank upon. Here, they point to the presence of the Chinese as the easiest and readiest method of inflaming these people and moving them to noisy and turbulent action. But in fact the Chinese are scarcely at all in the way of men of this description. If the Chinese were all gone, or had never been here, these men would not do the work that the Chinese are doing. They would not cook and wash, take contracts for clearing land, or cultivate vegetable gardens. They don't want to work and will not work on their own account. If they work at all they want specific wages to be paid every day or every week, to quit when they like, spend their money idly and then when necessity compels, find another "job." Such men never will work to establish a definite and independent position for themselves. They will not work with an eye to a result ten or twenty years hence. Unwilling to work this year, and if need be the next and the next, without present reward, to lay a foundation for future independence, they never learn to take care of themselves. When a reverse comes they have no little accumulation to draw upon and at such times up comes the pestilent "champion of labor," telling them that the man who has worked all his life with an earnest purpose who began in a small way and has ever since been patiently adding little by little to his property and business, who has saved his money through economy and self denial and has been willing all his life to undergo the steady labor, devoted to a single object, that is always necessary to success—telling them that such man is their enemy, that he is in possession of their property, and that it is shameful injustice that he should have something while they have nothing at all.

This is the whole story of the situation here. It is as old as civilized man, and no doubt it will be repeated often, as long as man lives on the earth. Prudence, industry, judgment, sobriety, self denial and patient devotion through the years of their lives to steady work will not always make men rich, but will always give them a self-supporting independence; and here as in all things they who will not pay the price cannot have the result.

Departure of the Chinese will not bring any beneficial change to those who will not observe the requirements of prudent and steady industry, which is the basis of all prosperity. Still, we should be glad if the Chinese were gone, since a weapon would then be removed from the arsenal of pestilent demagogy, and there would be fewer materials for creating disturbances that annoy and alarm the community. But the fundamental conditions of an "agitation" like this are always present. Some men will be careful, prudent and industrious, spending the years of their lives in steady effort to establish themselves and their families while others will be improvident, will work only in a fitful and desultory way, will spend the earnings in liquors, amusements or various follies and then the man who has not followed the principles of industry and economy, that lead always to independence and prosperity, rises up against him who has followed these principles and there is always a Haskell and a Cradlebaugh to champion the cause of ignorance, indolence, intemperance and unthrift, in the name of justice, industry and labor.

THEIR MOTIVE

This city contains two daily papers which have joined in the agitation of unlawful and riotous measures for expulsion of the Chinese. They have joined in it just as Haskell, Baker, Cradlebaugh and other "leaders" have joined it, that is, for what they have hoped to make out of it for themselves. Neither of these papers is of much account for anything but the mischief it may be able to do in inflaming mobs in a time of excitement. Neither has much circulation anywhere and very little among the reputable business and substantial industrial classes. Both have failed as newspapers to commend themselves, by the value of their contents, to the public and both have long been trying in vain to obtain business at the expense of THE OREGONIAN—in other words, to push themselves in by pushing THE OREGONIAN out. Their purpose in making themselves the mouthpieces of this unlawful and riotous movement is the misjudged and misguided one of "getting business." They have mistakenly attempted it as a hopeful means, as it appeared to them, of taking business enough away from THE OREGONIAN to enable them to establish themselves.

To this end these papers have been willing to palter with the spirit of riot. Betrayed by their eagerness to get "business" they have mistaken the [illegible] of a seditious mob for the [illegible] of the people. In this way they have done their full share to bring the city of Portland to the very threshold of disorder and riot. They haven't actually wanted a riot, but they have wanted and hoped for advantage and profit to themselves, and have hoped and expected to realize it out of the commotion. It may be submitted to law-abiding people whether this motive is a worthy one or not. Since when has it been esteemed an honorable thing for men to feed, inflame, foster, promote and incite that which threatens to subvert law and order, [illegible] in order that they may gain profit to themselves?

This is the open secret of the course of the News and Standard. It is more open, more widely understood than they are aware of. Hence to their return to observance and advocacy of the [illegible] of law-abiding citizenship they will be [illegible] by law abiding men far more than THE OREGONIAN can possibly be by the turbulent, riotous and law-defying class. The two papers have made a great mistake for themselves and have done great wrong to the community.

The public will readily decide as to who is able to give the more intelligent opinion in the matter of Gov. Squire's prompt action in quelling the Seattle mob, the reliable citizens of that city, who were present and fully realized the situation, or the anti-Chinese shriekers and riot-breeders of this city, who were striving to bring about a like crisis here.

Fourth and fifth class postmasters in Dakota have a special grievance. They say that at the railroad towns a great portion of the letters are mailed on the trains, thus depriving them of the showing that they would otherwise be able to make at department headquarters, and the resulting commissions. Why not boycott these inconsiderate people?

A PLEA FOR YAQUINA.

The people of southwestern Oregon have made and are making strong appeals to congress to grant this year the $300,000 residue of the $550,000 of the original estimate of the United States engineers for the Yaquina bay improvement. Already, as Mr. Wallis Nash informs the public through the columns of the Yaquina Leader, very fervent petitions to congress and letters to Oregon senators and representatives with signatures of nearly 3000 of the very best citizens of the six valley counties have been sent forward, urging this point. These signers represent responsible men of all classes and business houses of the most substantial character. It is argued that the Oregon Pacific railroad opens up his port to Western Oregon trade, and that the prosperity of the entire state will be promoted by giving to commerce another outlet, but will be safe, direct and reliable. Whether the facts set forth will have the desired effect is doubtful. Yet that such a course would be wise is certain. Patchwork is the matter of river and harbor improvements—here a little and there a little—to the extent of an inadequate appropriation, and then a cessation of work until the action of the waves, shifting sands, drift wood and freshets works a partial undoing is the rule. Another appropriation is then secured, and the work is pushed but little beyond the bounds of necessary repairs, when it again ceases because the money runs out. Men who direct such matters in congress, and pride themselves upon their character as public economists, would not think of conducting a private business enterprise in a manner so wasteful, dilatory and unremunerative. The improvement of a channel, bar or harbor by the government, when undertaken, should be steadily, intelligently and economically pushed without intermission, except as stress of weather forbids effective work until the object for which it was undertaken is accomplished.

It may be well to say in passing that the idea that seems to prevail in connection with the work at Yaquina bay by those more closely interested in it, that other portions of the state regard it with disfavor, should be dismissed as childish and without foundation, in fact. There is too much necessity for building up in this state to justify a waste of time in pulling down. Too much necessity of development in all quarters, in order that the growing needs of the population may be met to waste time in the indulgence of local jealousies, that are at best belittling. The industries of the state in aggregate represent its prosperity in detail. It matters little whether its surplus products seek a market through the mouth of the Columbia, the bay of Yaquina or across the continent by rail. The chief thing is to create a surplus and place it reasonably in market by the most available means and in first class order. If the Oregon Pacific, as auxiliary to the government improvement at Yaquina bar affords the farmers of Benton and adjoining counties convenient transportation for their wheat at rates that leave them a better margin for profits than they could otherwise secure, people in other sections of the state should and will be glad with them. [illegible] an incentive to trade and to the development of industry is essential to the general prosperity. Without transportation facilities the surplus of the country, as producers have found to their cost, represents a waste of effort merely. Without competition in transportation as they have also found to their cost, the surplus represents a profit so meager as to make even the appearance of thrift in farming communities impossible. The extension of railways and other commercial facilities is just what Oregon needs to develop the [illegible] that an [illegible]

HAVE A LESSON

It is time Seattle were [illegible] a city [illegible]. The city is now [illegible] the mob has dispersed [illegible] who composed it have sunk out of sight. The ringleaders of the disturbance have been made to feel the power of the law and the [illegible] police have been suspended. There is positively no reason why the city is not able to govern itself as usual. It is feared that when the troops are withdrawn an effort will be made by those recently [illegible] to punish summarily the men supposed to have done the shooting a week ago, but this menace must be met sooner or later, and the city is quite as well prepared now to defend its citizens as it will be hereafter. Indeed, for just now public spirit, roused by recent events, is active and high.

Every day of military rule is an injury to the business and credit of the city. It hurts in many ways. General trade is dull, local industry is stopped and habits of diligence are broken. Home capital becomes timid and outside capital stays away. Nobody wants to invest in a town subject to riotous disturbance and unable to govern itself. Then, the credit of the city for respectability and stability will suffer and merchants will find it difficult or impossible to buy goods abroad on easy terms. The existing situation, too, affords a strong and continuing argument against the appeal for admission, and one which will be made the most of by the opponents of that scheme.

There is nothing which the military is doing or can do which cannot be done equally well by the civil authorities. An efficient police can maintain the peace quite as well as the soldiers, the civil courts can deal with offenders quite as well as the court martial. In permitting herself to remain under martial law, Seattle is likely to lose even the credit of having put down the riot, and this is too important and valuable to be put aside. Martial law is out of harmony with American ideas, it is despotism, and even when its temporary results are good, its general and far-reaching effects are likely to prove unwholesome or vicious. It is a thing to be invited only at times of great stress and to be gotten rid of as soon as possible. Seattle cannot endure it longer without distinct loss of character and credit.

The chief duty is to reorganize and increase the police. For a time at least the force should consist of no less than twenty-five men, and every man of them should be of known true metal. Seattle has had an experience which in future will cause her to avoid the mistake so often made, of selecting policemen from the vicious or criminal classes.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Among the resolutions adopted by the riot breeders' "congress" assembled at Portland was one to the effect that "this congress views with alarm the great offense of the associated press under the control of THE OREGONIAN whereby eastern journals are [illegible] into the publication of slanders and scandalous untruths, to the detriment of the people of the Pacific coast," ending with a request that the manager of the associated press at Chicago "communicate with Col. Hamilton of the Portland News, who will furnish proof of the dereliction of duty herein indicated."

The reports sent from THE OREGONIAN to the associated press are confined strictly to statements of actual facts and events, but all the great papers of the east also get specials from Portland, and those specials particularly to papers of New York [illegible] to their source. Hence those who are unacquainted with [illegible] suppose that they all emanate from the agent of the associated press at Portland.

We may tell the tramps from California and other localities who engineered the Portland "congress" and its resolutions that the associated press is entirely qualified to take care of its own business. Nor does it require any prompting from "Col." Hamilton, publisher of a "snide" newspaper here, who has a special grievance against THE OREGONIAN because it is a newspaper and is read by everybody in the Northwest, while his own pinchbeck and riot-breeding organ is utterly neglected.

At last Peidan begins to work its way through the dense fog of the Standard's intellectual vision that the declaration of the "congress" that the Chinese must leave on or before a given day will lead to serious consequences if there is an attempt to enforce it. So it says that, if the declaration means that the organizations represented in the congress propose to remove all Chinamen remaining here at the end of the period of grace the declaration is as idle as it is wrong. The decree can not be enforced, and it ought not to be even if it could be." Ah, now, you see it at last! But you also say "The forcible expulsion of the Chinese, we take it for granted, will not be attempted at Portland." Then the whole proceeding in which you have been engaged is but a farce. But it can not be remembered that this notice to the Chinese to leave Portland is precisely the notice that was given at Tacoma and Seattle and is it not remembered what followed at those places? It was "forcible expulsion," was it not? And that is just what the declaration means here, if it means anything. But the Standard is undoubtedly right in one point. It says "the declaration, if this be its meaning, is as idle as it is wrong." It will not succeed, of course, and the attempt will lead to bloodshed. It is the danger of this that creates apprehension. With this menace before the people, look at how you [illegible] here [illegible] gaudy vista.

Puck for February 10th has a very clever caricature representing the "one man power in our jury system." The judge, represented by a withered hag labeled "tradition," holds all the scales of justice wherein eleven men of intelligent figure in one end of the balance are outweighed by one man in the other. The latter has a brutal face, is faultily dressed and hugs a bag marked "venality" and bears the label "ignorance," "prejudice," etc. Uncle Sam in the traditional costume and with wrathful face stands beneath the scales and is in the act of dealing the lower balance in which sits the one man, a kick well calculated to relieve it of its burden.

Fall River manufacturers have decided that the margin of profits incident to the revival of business and the general outlook for the spring trade is such as to warrant an advance of 10 per cent in the wages of operatives, to take effect March 1. The action is said to have resulted from the influence exercised by the younger element among manufacturers, whose declared policy is that of treating the operatives as reasonable, intelligent men, whom it is possible to satisfy with causes when reduction becomes necessary in order to realize a fair return upon capital invested, and who as reasonably expect an advance when profits will justify it.

Burelbach, and Quimby, of the boycott committee, are thoroughly disreputable. Neither of them could gain entrance among decent people anywhere. We may publish some account of them, if we conclude it would not stain the columns of THE OREGONIAN too much. They would do well to have padding about their persons, in proper places, when they call on decent people to demand that they boycott THE OREGONIAN.

Had not the three men who were hung by the vigilance committee at Seattle three years ago got their deserts they would undoubtedly have been leaders in the late riot there, and probably would have been delegates to the Portland "congress." This may be a "pointer" for the journals of riot at Portland, which are troubled about THE OREGONIAN'S "consistency" on the subject of Seattle's vigilance committee.

A convention which denounces the administration and the congress of the United States for their alleged indifference to the effort to expel the Chinese from the Pacific slope, and then calls on congress to impeach a governor for putting down a riotous mob gotten up for expulsion of the Chinese, certainly acts in as foolish a way as any tramp "agitator" could wish.

We have it now from the bogus journal that it required its own utmost efforts to prevent the riot which THE OREGONIAN, backed by the state, county and municipal authorities and the great body of citizens, was bound to have. So the bogus journal takes great credit to itself for the success of its efforts.

THE REVIVAL MEETINGS

[illegible] Attendance and Interest [illegible] Speaks of the Second Coming of Christ—Heaven

[illegible] for prayer [illegible] the congregation [illegible] various subjects [illegible] were handed [illegible] The evangelist [illegible] had announced [illegible] day. The second coming of Christ [illegible] sure that a great many people [illegible] prejudice against the doctrine [illegible] is unfortunate [illegible] as religious specialists [illegible] emphasize [illegible] doctrine. The [illegible] was not an adventist, yet he [illegible] in the faith, because it is taught in the Lord. [illegible] (Titus ii 11-13) [illegible] Scripture is profitable they are not to [illegible] if this subject be withheld from [illegible] theories are held, one that Christ will come and introduce the millennium and the other that the present state of things is to continue until the [illegible] The evangelist holds the first [illegible]. The [illegible] the first two centuries [illegible] and it was held by the [illegible] The churches of to-day believe and [illegible] and in proof the different creeds and [illegible] from the great reformers were read [illegible] fallen into disrepute among the [illegible] of the mistakes made by the Millerites. As to the fact is the Lord to come again [illegible] Christ was in the world and is to come again [illegible] is substantiated as fully as the [illegible] See John xiv 3, Acts i 10, 11, 1 Thess. [illegible] The Lord himself shall descend in person [illegible] physical body even as he went up. We are commanded to watch.

The subject is to be continued to-morrow.

AT THE TABERNACLE

The interest continues to increase slowly but steadily. The largest week night audience that has assembled during the present series of meetings was in attendance upon the services last evening. A [illegible] of prominent business men [illegible]. After singing, prayer was offered by Rev. W. C. [illegible] of Albina and Rev. Tower [illegible] announced as his subject [illegible] as the text II Cor. v 11. [illegible] Paul speaks those things with special emphasis as he had just before been caught up into the second heaven and there had seen things he could not utter. It is not necessary to bring a large number of texts to prove there is a heaven; we all believe that. In John xiv 13 we find heaven to be a place which is being fitted up for those who washed in the blood of Christ. In Revelations we find the exact measurement and a full description of the New Jerusalem, which is not heaven, but heaven-like. The finite cannot conceive of the glory prepared for them by the infinite. The evangelist then related the death-bed scene of his own father and how he had a glimpse of heavenly glory just before passing away. Heaven is a prepared place for a prepared people [illegible] Heaven cannot be heaven unless there be oneness of sentiment, desire and occupation. A Quaker about to attend a convention [illegible] himself on a steamer with a number of horse [illegible] who were going to the races at Detroit. The Quaker was made so miserable by the drinking, swearing, etc., that he offered the captain $50 to [illegible] him ashore. The next day one of the jockeys, [illegible] home, got on a boat with the returning Quakers, and he in turn was so miserable among the good men that he begged the captain to stop his boat and let him out of it. Ancient legend tells of a siren who by enchanting strains bewitched the mariner and lured himself and bark to destruction. To-day ambition, business cares, love of money, etc., are bewitching men and luring them to destruction, but thank God there is a power that breaks the captive's chain and sets him free who trusts in the saving power of Christ.

Fifty-three persons who were not Christians rose and testified to a desire to gain heaven. [illegible] after meeting a large number came forward and confessed Christ.

NOTES

THE REVIVAL MEETINGS.

Steady Increase in Attendance and Interest.
Munhall Speaks of the Second Coming of Christ and of Heaven.

After opening exercises Rev. I. D. [illegible] read a number of requests for prayer that had been handed in and voiced the congregation in prayer that God would graciously hear and answer. Several questions on various subjects written by different persons were handed to Mr. Munhall, who briefly answered them. The evangelist said he was almost sorry he had announced as his subject for to-day "The second coming of Christ," for he was sure that a great many people who had prejudice against the doctrine would stay away. It is unfortunate that some people will set up as religious specialists and emphasize one doctrine. The [illegible] he was not an adventist, yet he believed this truth, because it is taught in the Word. Ministers are taught to preach it (Titus ii. 12, 13) and as all scripture is profitable they are not to be [illegible] if this subject be withheld from the pulpit. Two theories are held: one that Christ will come and introduce the millenium, another that the present state of things is to continue until the world is converted. The evangelist holds the first as true. The church for the first two centuries were premillennialists and it was held by the early fathers. The churches of to-day believe and [illegible], and in proof the different creeds and confessions from the great reformers were read. The doctrine has fallen into disrepute among the people because of the mistakes made by the Millerites. As to the fact the Lord is to come again [illegible] Christ was in the world and is to come again [illegible] fact is substantiated as fully as the former. See John xiv. 1-3; Acts i. 10, 11; I Thess. iv. The Lord himself shall descend in person in a glorified body, even as he went up. We are commanded to watch.

The subject is to be continued to-morrow.

AT THE TABERNACLE.

The interest continues to increase slowly but steadily. The largest week night audience that has assembled during the present series of meetings was in attendance upon the services last evening. A large number of prominent business men were noticed. After singing, prayer was offered by Rev. W. O. Forbes, of Albina, and Rev. T. [illegible] of Salem. Dr. Munhall announced as his subject "Heaven," and gave as the text I Cor. [illegible] Paul spoke these things with special emphasis as he had just before been caught up into the second heavens and there had seen things he could not utter. It is not necessary to bring a large number of texts to prove there is a heaven, we all believe that. In John xiv. 13, we find heaven to be a place which is being fitted up for those who are washed in the blood of Christ. In revelation [illegible] we find the exact measurement and a [illegible] description of the New Jerusalem, which is not heaven, but heaven-like. The finite cannot [illegible] of the glory prepared for them by the infinite. The evangelist then related the death scene of his own father and how he had a glimpse of heavenly glory just before passing away. Heaven is a prepared place for a prepared people. Revelations vii. 9. Heaven cannot be heaven unless there be oneness of sentiment, desire and occupation. A Quaker about to attend a convention found himself on a steamer with a number of those men who were going to the races at Detroit. The Quaker was made so miserable by the drinking, swearing, etc., that he offered the captain $50 to put him ashore. The next day one of the others, coming home, got [illegible] boat with the returning Quakers, and he in turn was so miserable among the good men that he begged the captain to stop his boat and let him out of it. Ancient legend tells of a siren who by enchanting strains bewitched the mariner to [illegible] himself and bark to destruction. So ambition, business cares, love of money, etc., are bewitching men and luring them to destruction. But thank God there is a power that breaks the captive's chain and sets him free who trusts in the saving power of Christ.

Fifty-three persons who were not Christians rose and testified to a desire to gain heaven. [illegible] after meeting a large number came forward and confessed Christ.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

IMMIGRATION MATTERS.—Down at the state board rooms there is every indication that the principal tide of immigration has set in. During the office hours (8 A. M. to 5 P. M.) of Saturday and yesterday, ninety three persons—immigrants, registered at the rooms, and are either here or have gone out into the state under the auspices of the commissioners in search of a location. The majority of these people have scattered through the state, many of them going to join friends, or to look over the country with a view to settle [illegible]. The possession of means with which to purchase farms is a characteristic of the [illegible] fact that with the [illegible] all are practical farmers. It is a noticeable fact that but three of the last four hundred comers desired to locate in this city or in city [illegible] but two men from among them have applied for work. Three-fourths of those coming at this [illegible] are married men and are between the ages of 25 and 40 years. They are an intelligent, thrifty, well-to-do people of good moral and social standing. Among the arrivals on Saturday was Rev. Geo. W. Oliver of the M. E. church, Wayne county, Iowa, who with three or four friends came [illegible] yesterday morning to choose a location. Mr. Oliver came here as the representative of [illegible] who [illegible] him, and many of whom will no doubt follow him to this state. During [illegible] letters of inquiry have [illegible] the desk of the secretary, coming not only direct, but sent in by hundreds from [illegible] information has been asked. A letter from Mr. James F. [illegible], president of the [illegible] board, written at Omaha under date of February 9, informs the secretary that the Union Pacific and Short Line managers have not only entered heartily into his plans for a thorough distribution of our immigration literature, but will incorporate into their railway literature a portion of "Oregon As It Is."

LINSEED OIL WORKS.—The gentlemen in this city who have the establishment of linseed oil works here under consideration received information yesterday from Omaha that the linseed oil works of the west have formed a pool and have agreed to produce only such an amount of oil as can be placed on the market at a reasonable [illegible] is no reason why Portland cannot sell [illegible] and Victoria.

[illegible] A MODEL.—[illegible] yesterday wished to procure a Chinaman for a model. The story of their adventures in search of one would make a horse laugh. What they wanted was a common Chinese laborer in his working dress, and they offered a dollar an hour for such a one to sit and let them draw his portrait. But although the matter was clearly explained to various gangs of Chinamen by their English speaking [illegible] for a long time no one could be found to take the job. Just why the [illegible] to serve as a model arose from fear that the members of the [illegible] would not do justice to the Mongolian style of beauty, or from bashfulness, could not be ascertained. At length a fellow agreed to sit, but when he saw the array of rubber gas tips and the shades and the crane for supporting the lights he bolted [illegible] that he was to be skinned and stuffed and kept for a model after his race had vanished from the country. Thirty days hence and he thought he was too young to be a martyr [illegible] cause of science. After considerable trouble another model was secured, and when a [illegible] dropped in on the club [illegible] young artists were drawing away at portraits of him and he had come to the conclusion that he had struck the softest job of his life.

TWENTY DUCKS WITH TWO SHOTS.—[illegible] Bybee, Wilson Scoggin and Joseph Paquet went over to their shooting grounds on the Slough Saturday after ducks. The game was very scarce and after waiting a long time one solitary duck flew over and Bybee and Scoggin shot at it and down it came. They at length started for home with their lone duck, and on the way espied a flock of widgeon feeding in a cove. Paquet proposed [illegible] and take a pot shot at them. But Bybee said he would not pot ducks if he never got one [illegible] So he crept up near the lake and took a shot at them sitting, and as they rose blazed away with the other barrel and picked up twenty fine fat widgeons as the net result. It is very seldom that anyone brings down that many ducks at two shots [illegible]

NOT MUCH OF A CASE.—Yesterday Fred Deaves, a billposter, was brought before Justice Davis on complaint of A. Morris, a second hand dealer, on a charge of larceny. It all happened this way. Deaves got a bed and a pillow from Morris while stopping in the old Washington hotel on Third street near Taylor, and never afterward returned the same. Morris says he made a demand on Deaves and that he refused to give up the things, hence the arrest. Deaves's story is to the effect that he left the bed and pillow in the Washington hotel at the time he left, and that all Morris had to do was to go and take his property whenever he wanted it. Deaves was allowed to go on his own recognizance and Morris then started off to fix matters up. The case was set for trial to-day at 10 o'clock.

NEW LODGE ROOM FOR THE A. O. U. W.—The large room in the New Market block formerly occupied as a gymnasium by the Olympic club has been leased by Hope lodge No. [illegible] A. O. U. W. and will hereafter be used as a meeting room for the various lodges of the order, of which there are no less than six in this city. A partition has been run along the west side of the room, cutting off enough space for the necessary anterooms and property rooms. These are floored over making a sort of gallery, where the music can be placed on festive occasions and where, if necessary, several sets of quadrilles can be formed. The lodge will take possession of their new hall one week from to-night, and the occasion will be celebrated by a sociable and good time generally.

DEMPSEY AND LE BLANCHE.—A New York special of the 14th inst. says that Jack Dempsey is in training for his glove contest with Pete M[illegible] which is to take place on the 24th, and for his fight with Le Blanche. The fight with Le Blanche, Dempsey said, will probably take place somewhere between the 15th and 20th of March. It will be private and will be fought to the end. "I mean to win it, and think I can. After that I shall retire from the ring. I will fight no more. Not that I am disgusted with it, but my ambition is [illegible]" The splints have been taken off Dempsey's broken knuckles of the left hand and they are rapidly getting well.

A DESERVED ADVANCEMENT.—Mr. [illegible] W. [illegible], chief clerk in the Northern Pacific general freight office here, has been appointed superintendent of the Denver, Texas & Gulf railroad, a line running from Denver to Pueblo, a distance of [illegible]. He will begin his new duties March 1. Mr. [illegible] has seen eleven years service in the operating department of western roads and is well equipped for the place. He will be missed by his many friends here.

NOT FIRE.—The alarm from box 4 last evening was caused by a chimney burning out at the residence of Robert [illegible], corner of South Third and Lincoln streets. There is something wrong with box 4, as every one took the number struck to be 13 and the engines rushed first to Washington street and then up to Hall. Fortunately their services were not required. That box should be [illegible] the first and second strokes should be cured at once.

[illegible]—[illegible] who brutally murdered [illegible] Sunday evening, it is reported [illegible] Whalen, who inflicted [illegible] a gash on the throat of [illegible] on Yamhill street about four years since. He is a bloodthirsty brute, and it is to be hoped that this is his last murder, as, if he does not die by his self inflicted wounds, he is certain to be hanged.

NEW TREASURER.—Mr. Wallace [illegible] of Corvallis was appointed by the Benton county court at its last session treasurer of Benton county with bonds fixed at $20,000. The appointment is made to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. J. J. Blair. The reason of the change is that at the last meeting of the Benton county court Blair was declared a defaulter in his accounts with the county to the extent of $8[illegible].

ALLEGED ACCOMPLICE TO FORGERY.

Kelliher Confesses that a Pal Named Ladd Forged J. A. Strowbridge's Name to Two Notes.

As will be remembered by our readers Patrick Kelliher was arrested several weeks ago on a charge of forging J. A. Strowbridge's name to two promissory notes, one for $1000 and another for $500. On the $500 note he succeeded in getting the money from the First National bank, but was caught while attempting to negotiate the note for $1000, by W. A. Daly, the money broker. Kelliher at one time kept the Occidental restaurant and latterly an eating house in the old American Exchange hotel. It was only supposed that Kelliher was not the person who indorsed Strowbridge's name to the note, but that some other man was back of the whole transaction. Kelliher, who since his arrest has been confined in the county jail, has been worked upon by Deputy Sheriff [illegible] Wood and Ned Dougherty, and has at last confessed. He first said that a man who worked for [illegible] was the forger, but [illegible] was found to be a creature of imagination. He then was again pumped and Sunday last he acknowledged that it was A. [illegible] Ladd, an intimate, who wrote Strowbridge's name to the [illegible] instrument.

Acting on the information received, Wood and Dougherty started out to look for Ladd, and yesterday morning succeeded in finding him [illegible] now building on First street. Ladd when told he was wanted denied all knowledge of either of the forgeries. The way Strowbridge's signature was obtained to copy from was as follows: [illegible] he and Kelliher belonging to the A. O. U. W. and Kelliher got Strowbridge to put his name to a recommendation for membership for a candidate for admission to the lodge which Kelliher was to propose for admission. On the day of Kelliher's arrest Ladd, according to Kelliher's story, met him on the street and, after informing him that he [illegible] his influence to keep [illegible] Ladd visited Kelliher at the jail shortly after his arrest [illegible] Ladd [illegible] him to negotiate the $500 note and got $200 of the money.

A FAITHLESS SWINDLING HUSBAND

An Injured Wife Secures Justice in the State Circuit Court and Retains her Property

July [illegible] commenced suit in the state circuit court for a divorce from [illegible] Duvall [illegible] in his complaint that he was [illegible] years of age, and [illegible] that they had two children [illegible] Oregon City and [illegible] Portland April [illegible] went on to state that Mrs. Duvall had threatened several times to [illegible] her offspring [illegible] temper [illegible] The case went to a referee and in due course of time a divorce was granted by Judge Stearns [illegible] Mrs. Duvall [illegible] to appear. Previous to the marriage Mrs. Duvall was the owner of twenty acres of land described as the [illegible] of the N. W. [illegible] section 1[illegible], T. 1 S., R. 3 E., and by the decree granted Duvall was to get one third of it.

After the granting of the divorce, Mrs. Duvall through her attorney applied for a rehearing [illegible] Her story was that [illegible] Oregon City [illegible] that in order to provide [illegible] he had to be [illegible] ing after fixing up the homestead [illegible] She accepted service [illegible] The answer was granted, after which Mrs. Duvall filed a counter complaint [illegible] her husband [illegible] to Vancouver and taken to him [illegible] a young girl of about 14, and that [illegible] declared the owner of all of the 20 acres [illegible] as she wished to sell the property. She denied all the allegations set up in the first complaint and claimed instead that she was abused [illegible] her husband had [illegible] etc.

The second case was referred to a referee, and a favorable report made, so yesterday Judge Stearns again divorced the parties. Duvall did not take his children after the first case was settled and the mother will now in future be their guardian. She gets the property she had before marriage and he keeps his homestead.

LECTURE AND CONCERT.

New Market Crowded Last Night at the Entertainment for St. Lawrence Church

At the entertainment for the benefit of St. Lawrence church given under the auspices of the ladies of that church last evening at the New Market theatre, the feature of the evening was the lecture by Archbishop Gross, who was in his most happy and eloquent mood. [illegible] forcibly brought to mind [illegible] present time [illegible] the many inventions [illegible] the telegraph, the printing press and the railroad. But man [illegible] could make nothing that would [illegible] the mightiest empires and monarchies the world has ever seen have all crumbled away and vanished. [illegible] the church. How from a weak and insignificant [illegible] has grown in spite of adversity and persecution for the past two thousand years to its present grand proportions, likening it to a ship starting out on her perilous voyage across the ocean, meeting storms and headwinds, but finally sailing safe into harbor [illegible].

The concert programme was long and of an entertaining quality. One of the pleasantest features was the quintette [illegible] selection [illegible] rendered by the class of that most accommodating of gentlemen, Prof. Emil [illegible], who never refuses his services in any charitable cause. The audience was very large and cultivated, fully appreciating the fine points of the programme.

THE COURTS.

The case of Seeley vs. Elliott et al. was on trial [illegible] in the U. S. circuit court yesterday.

Sam Hop waived examination in Justice Davis's court yesterday to appear before the grand jury. Hop is accused of attempting to extort money from Kim Ark. The defense is that he won $100 in the Tuck Lee lottery and they refused to pay him his winnings. As in most such cases a settlement will be effected, and attempts at compromise have already been tried.

Judge Stearns will announce decisions to-day in the following cases: [illegible] vs. Joseph Wetzel et al., Jacob [illegible] vs. [illegible], [illegible] Irving vs. [illegible] Irving, and John [illegible] vs. S. A. [illegible].

The damage suit of George W. [illegible] vs. Patrick Smith comes up for trial to-day before a jury in state circuit court, department No. [illegible]. Some months ago Smith got into a quarrel with [illegible] on G street and shot him [illegible] for $10,000.

In the state circuit court yesterday W. G. [illegible] commenced suit against the Lost Lake and Columbia Manufacturing company. He alleges that he worked for the defendant keeping books and as general superintendent during the year [illegible] and that they owe him a balance of $1[illegible]. Wherefore he prays judgment.

On November 24, 1883, Frank Payne made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors to [illegible] Starr. They then took the case to the state circuit court for a rehearing. [illegible] Yesterday Geo. H. Williams appeared for Wilson and Montgomery and [illegible]

THE STAGE.

BILLEE TAYLOR AT THE CASINO.—The production of a new opera at this popular place of amusement is always an occasion of more than ordinary interest and is usually greeted by a crowded house. Last night was no exception to the rule. Since their arrival here the Thompson opera company have established themselves firmly in the esteem of amusement lovers by the careful [illegible] upon their operas. Mr. A. W. F. McCollin certainly possesses the art of managing the stage, grouping a chorus and drilling them in effective business to a greater degree than any other we have seen, and in no opera that they have given is this fact more apparent than in "Billee Taylor," which after but a few days of rehearsal was put on for the first time last evening with a perfection of detail and a completeness of ensemble that was surprising. The opera depends for its effect principally upon its quick action, and in the sprightliness of its dialogue lies its chief charm, though there are several attractive melodies in the score.

Miss Irene D. Hall made a most pleasing [illegible] and sang her score particularly [illegible] "I Am a Bashful Maiden" delightfully. In her neat sailor suit she appeared to decided advantage. The hit of the evening was the Ben Barnacle of Mr. McCollin. Many who have witnessed his Koko, Gen. Ollendorf, Sir Joseph Porter or Lord Chancellor have doubted his versatility, but such doubts must have been dispelled upon seeing his Ben Barnacle. It is simply unique. In make up and acting he is a veritable Captain Cuttle, and his singing and acting in the song "All on Account of Eliza" brought down the house and earned him repeated encores. The charity girls chorus [illegible] was well sung and the incidental business was done with a precision and neatness [illegible] pleasant to the eye. Miss Branson [illegible] sweet and pretty Susan [illegible] by her gracefulness. The Captain [illegible] of Mr. Willett Seaman was a clever [illegible] [illegible] Fis and Miss Hall's singing of "[illegible] Like That" with the chorus was [illegible] pleasing [illegible] melody [illegible] Miss Anna Golden's Eliza Dabsey was [illegible] During the [illegible] singer danced a sailor's hornpipe [illegible] Portsmouth harbor with ships [illegible] row boats in motion across the water [illegible] mechanical [illegible] "Billee Taylor" runs for the week.

THE THEATER.—This theater was crowded last night to witness the new variety company brought out by Manager Clinton from the leading theaters of the east. It is in every respect a [illegible] and is in fact the best company ever seen in Portland of the kind. The new attractions consist of the Leaton sisters, society sketch artists; [illegible] a wonderful acrobat who so throws himself around the stage in so many different shapes that it is a mystery that he don't break his neck. Then there is John F. Leonard, the champion pedestal dancer, late of [illegible] Wagner's minstrels; Colburn and Clayton, song and dance artists; the Mendel, the Cartel team and Charles Nelson, Olga Earl and all the old favorites.

A WORD ABOUT PRESS DISPATCHES.

The Astorian of Sunday, addressing itself to THE OREGONIAN, says, among other things:

We think it was from your office this damnatory dispatch was sent which appeared in the San Francisco papers of July 10, 1885:

A DOOMED CITY.

ASTORIA, July 10.—Grave apprehensions are felt among the river hands and business men of this town in regard to the results of the recent action of the vigilance committee. A few days ago two Italians were publicly flogged by the committee and ordered to leave town on short notice. They left, but have returned, and are now in the upper end of town with a large number of Italian fishermen. It is said there are not less than 500 in a camp. They are greatly incensed against the citizens of Astoria for the indignity shown their countrymen and threaten revenge. [illegible] is anticipated and it is feared an attempt will be made to burn the town.

[illegible] and we beg leave to say that the [illegible] above was not sent by THE OREGONIAN or any employe of this paper.

[illegible] the reading public [illegible] matter transmitted from [illegible] associated press [illegible] The associated press [illegible] sensational [illegible] reports [illegible] the New York Sun [illegible] the New York Times [illegible] the associated press or special. But it has happened more than once that persons read [illegible] exaggerated reports of occurrences [illegible] jump to the conclusion that the Associated press is to blame. Here is a case in point: On the 8th of January, 188[illegible], the New York Sun published a very sensational dispatch from Portland, stating that the O. R. & N. track was hopelessly buried under snow, and that there was no prospect of resumption of traffic for at least two months. Two days later the track was clear. The telegram was copied far and wide, then got into the "patent outsides," and was running in country weeklies as late as March 1.

Special dispatches are paid for at space rates, and irresponsible correspondents often send the worst sort of trash, colored so as to look like news, simply for the pay there is in it. This is a good time to remark that the Associated press knows its functions and that its reports from Portland are invariably confined to facts.

[illegible] the office of the street commissioner vacant on account of the present incumbent having [illegible] the term for which he was appointed, and directing the recorder to issue no further warrant for salary for said officer until the office was filled according to the charter.

Wheeler moved that the ordinance be referred to the committee on judiciary and city attorney without further reading. He contended that the ordinance was not worth the attention of the council [illegible] an officer held his office until his successor was elected and qualified.

[illegible] in reply quoted section [illegible] of article VIII of the new charter, which provides that all officers holding office when the new charter went into effect retain their offices for the full term and period for which they were elected or appointed, [illegible] he contended was but one year.

Wheeler and Bloomer contended that "the full term and period" implied for one year and until their successors were elected and qualified, in accordance with the terms of the former charter. [illegible] one year was the limit.

The vote on Wheeler's motion was then put and lost: ayes, Wheeler, Merrick, Bloomer and Gruner; noes, [illegible] Nicolai, West and McA[illegible], and the [illegible] voting in the negative.

The ordinance was then read a second time, and Wheeler then re-offered his motion to refer to the committee on judiciary and city attorney, which then passed.

THE "NORTHERNER" AND "SOUTHERNER."

PORTLAND, Feb. 1[illegible].

To the Editor of THE OREGONIAN:

In his latest article on "Pioneer Days," Mr. S. A. Clarke erroneously identifies the steamer Isthmus, on which he made the voyage from Panama to San Francisco, with the steamship Northerner, which afterwards ran regularly between San Francisco and Portland.

The old name of the Isthmus was the Southerner [illegible] change of name was only temporary. She was an old fashioned, square sterned, side wheel boat, and as he calls [illegible] steamship. She formerly ran between New York and one of the southern ports, and [illegible] thought to have been condemned as unseaworthy was brought to the Pacific coast and made a few trips under the alias of the Isthmus. In December 1854 she was put on the Portland route to fill a break caused by the detention of the Columbia, then the regular mail steamer. She arrived off the bar in very bad weather, and her commander, Capt. F. [illegible] Simpson, having little confidence in his ship, dared not either venture to cross in or wait outside for a smoother bar and so bore away for Puget sound. Off Cape Flattery her machinery, which had worked very badly the whole trip, entirely gave out, and as the only means of saving the lives of those on board she was allowed to drift on shore. All hands were saved, but cargo and baggage were lost.

Gen. Robert [illegible], then a Portland merchant, Major, afterward Gen. Alvord of the army, and several other persons well known in Oregon were passengers.

A printing press [illegible] an edition of the Oregon laws [illegible] of Mr. A. Bush of the Oregon Statesman, were among the cargo.

The Northerner was a [illegible] specimen of ancient marine architecture [illegible] better boat than the Southerner. She never ran under any name but her own. She was brought out by Capt. Ben Waterman and delivered to the Pacific Mail steamship company at Panama early in the summer of 1850.

She ran regularly between San Francisco and Portland during the years 1858 and 1859 under command of Capt. Wm. L. Dall, and was lost in January 1860, off Humboldt. Mr. Alanson Hinman of Forest Grove was a passenger, and John [illegible] was her purser. Among the lost were [illegible] Samuel [illegible] of the [illegible] Brothers of this city. I should have attributed the error to carelessness of typesetter and proof reader were it not that Mr. Clarke, by his mention of loss of life shows plainly that he had mixed those vessels up in his own mind, since in the case of the Southerner, which he knew as the Isthmus, not a life was lost, while the wreck of the Northerner was accompanied by the loss of a large number.

"Lost and Saved" is the title of a beautiful temperance cantata that will be produced at Eugene City February 26 by the best local talent.

Improved machinery and a circular saw has been added to the Bennett sawmill, near Waldo. These additions make this one of the best mills in Southern Oregon. It is situated in the midst of a fine lot of timber.

Eighty rifles, 45 caliber, and 1000 rounds of ammunition were sent down to Astoria from Salem, last Thursday, for the equipment of company H, O. N. G. Yesterday 1000 additional cartridges arrived. The rifles are of the newest pattern.

Grant's Pass Argus: On Wednesday afternoon, February 10, Wm. Triplet attempted to start from Chas. Sanders' place near Galice creek, with a small skiff which became unmanageable and floated down the stream a couple of miles, when the boat capsized, drowning him.

A piece of disgraceful rowdyism occurred in Ashland, Monday evening, February 8th. The Ashland band had turned out to serenade Mr Puckett, of the Pioneer hotel, and were on the point of accepting an invitation to supper when a crowd of boys and young hoodlums forced their way into the dining room and captured the tables and completely demolished the eatables.

Jacksonville Times: Frank Baker, a half breed Indian, was arrested by Constable Birdsey Wednesday, February 10, upon a warrant issued nearly three years ago, charging him with shooting at Albert Johnson. Ashland Tidings: Arthur D Carrick, the blacksmith at Linkville, left that place recently without informing his friends and neighbors of his intentions and upon an examination of his business affairs being made it was discovered that his accounts are in very bad shape. Suits have been entered upon local claims aggregating about a thousand dollars, and it is said that San Francisco and Portland merchants are his creditors to the amount of from $1200 to $2000. His property will fall considerably short of meeting the liabilities.

Marshfield Coast Mail: August Fagerlund fell into Coos bay February 4 and was drowned. No one witnessed the accident. Fagerlund was a Finn, short, stout, about 38 years old, and weighed nearly 200 pounds. He was good natured, and seemed to have many friends, but was an enemy to himself of late in giving way to his inordinate love of intoxicants. He was a ship carpenter by trade and came to the bay some three years ago. About a year ago he worked at Parkersburg, on the last schooner built at that place.

Died, at Heppner, Wednesday, February 10, Philip L. Paine, aged 29 years. Mr Paine was a prominent young lawyer, and had a large number of prominent friends in Morrow county who will be surprised and shocked at his premature death. He had been suffering for a few weeks from an attack of pneumonia, and was able to be around again when he went to his office to attend to some urgent business, against the advice of his physician, and taking fresh cold suffered a relapse from which he never rallied. He was a member of the Heppner lodge of Knights of Pythias, whose members took the best of care of him during his illness. His remains have been embalmed and will not be buried until the arrival of his mother from Maine.

Arlington Enterprise: Everything points to an unusually large acreage and big yield of grain in Gilliam county the coming season. Although the area of fall grain is not so large as it was last year, by considerable, it is above the average in extent, and looks unusually well for this time of year, while the early breaking of winter, enabling farmers to plow the last week in January, will insure a much larger acreage of spring grain than ever before planted here. The ground, too, is in prime condition for the growth and development of cereals, it having absorbed abundant moisture from the late fall rains, the winter's snows and the heavy rains we have had since the thaw, to mature crops already planted, so that with a few spring showers, which we can reasonably expect, the acreage and yield will be large indeed. It is yet too early to speculate upon prices, but if they are anyway good it is safe to say our farmers and this section will enjoy a season of prosperity that will go a long way towards making amends for the hard times and reverses of the past two years.

FREIGHTS—The Riversdale Iron and Henry Villard were come disengaged. The Yarkand is placed on the engaged list, although parties are [illegible] given other than a cargo has been still for shipment by her. The Howarden Castle lost charter by late arrival. The open list is now [illegible] iron and [illegible] wood. Owners are evidently firm in their views and chartering is slow. There is some inquiry that does not resolve itself into a demand. The Bertha [illegible] from [illegible] tons was [illegible] late in the day understood to be at 40s to Allen & Lewis. The Yarkand loads on owners account.

WHEAT—There seems nothing but continued dullness, which further weakens values abroad without having any marked effect here. The week opens under unfavorable conditions.

OATS—Probably weaker as our San Francisco advice is of a lower market there. We do not change quotations, [illegible] a lower range is probable.

POTATOES—Fair movement, but shippers are doing less. Quote 20@[illegible]c.

ONIONS—Steady, with an undertone not strong.

EGGS—Stocks quite liberal and market not more than steady at 18c.

BUTTER—California roll selling at [illegible] lb, large [illegible] 1 [illegible].

ORANGES—Common sold at $1. Riversides [illegible] $1 50.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb 15.—Governments were dull and steady. There was little interest in stocks. Prices opened with only moderate changes, a majority of the list being only a shade higher. During the first hour the market was irregular and somewhat feverish. This was followed by a small decline, and after midday a rally during which early losses were recovered. Changes with few exceptions were within a range of ½ per cent and closing quotations show losses in a majority of cases of only small fractions. Pacific Mail, however, was strong all day, closing with a gain of ¾.

The Secret of Newspaper Force

G. W. Smalley, writing to the New York Tribune about journalistic affairs in London, says:

A paper of which a single high mind has not the direction can seldom have a great authority with the public. The public is sure to detect vacillations, hesitations, infirmity of purpose, divided counsels and a want of definite leadership. It will not follow unless somebody leads, and if half a dozen people are to lead, it is certain they will not all aim at the same object.

To create an appetite and give tone to the digestive apparatus, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is unequaled.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, &c., having tried in vain every known remedy has discovered a simple self-cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers. From Pole to Pole,

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has demonstrated its power of cure for all diseases of the blood.

The Harpooner's Story.

New Bedford, June 1, 1883.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.—Twenty years ago I was a harpooner in the North Pacific, when five others of the crew and myself were laid up with scurvy. Our bodies were bloated, gums swollen and bleeding, teeth loose, purple blotches all over us, and our breath seemed rotten. Take it by and large we were pretty badly off. All our lime juice was accidentally destroyed, but the captain had a couple dozen bottles of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA and gave us that. We recovered on it quicker than I have ever seen men brought about by any other treatment for scurvy, and I've seen a good deal of it. Seeing no mention in your Almanac of your Sarsaparilla being good for scurvy, I thought you ought to know of this, and so send you the facts.

Respectfully yours, RALPH Y. WINGATE.

The Trooper's Experience.

Mafeking, Bechuanaland (S. Africa), March 7, 1883.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.—Gentlemen: I have much pleasure to testify to the great value of your Sarsaparilla. We have been stationed here for over two years, during which time we had to live in tents. Being under canvas for such a time brought on what is called in this country "veldt-sores." I had those sores for some time. I was advised to take your Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which made my sores disappear rapidly, and I am now quite well.

Yours truly, T. E. BODEN,

Trooper, Cape Mounted Riflemen.
